Bodisen Biotech was named as one of China's Top 100 growth companies by Forbes China in the January 2005 issue (www.forbeschina.com). The Forbes China Top 100 list gave higher scores to companies with long term strategies, and initially selected 6,000 companies. From these 6,000 companies, Forbes whittled down to 200 companies with three year average annual sale growth rate no less than 40% and current year sales growth rate no less than 40%. According to the Forbes press release on the list, the editors at Forbes China visited each of those companies and talked to its management and indicated that Forbes China favored companies focusing on a complete operating structure, clear corporate philosophy and corporate culture.

Utilizing proprietary technologies, Bodisen sells over 60 packaged products in 3 product categories: Organic Compound Fertilizer; Organic Liquid Fertilizer; and Pesticides & Insecticides. Bodisen's organic fertilizers can be absorbed by plants within 48 hours while enriching soil conditions without the damaging effects associated with chemical fertilizers.
